Planners Set Seven Hearings On Zoning

Seven public hearings involving the new zoning ordinance were set for February 4 when the Campbell Planning Commission met Thursday evening in the fire station on Central Avenue.

R. H. Schleeter of 2373 Walnut Grove avenue, San Jose, presented plans and specifications for a drive-in restaurant at the southwest corner of Hamilton avenue and the San Jose-Los Gatos road. Nestor Barrett, planning consultant said that M-1 use is permitted for this area under the zoning ordinance, but commissioners discussed it as a potential traffic hazard. On motion of Commissioner Kenneth Priestly, the plans would be approved to a sixty foot set back from the Hamilton avenue line and subject to any changes made by the Santa Clara County Health Department. The application must be re-submitted.

A hearing was set for February 4 on the application of J. Dale Goodnight of 1771 Grace avenue, San Jose for a variance in side yard requirement, the applicaant contending that plans had been made, a permit granted, a loan approved and work started on this Nodingham Square home prior to the time the zoning ordinance was up for enforcement. John M. Chargin, commission chairman expressed general sentiments of the board that someone would be caught in the middle of this change over and that due consideration should be given this specific instance.

A similar request was made by Wilkinson Construction company for lot 18 on Ridgley Drive in the Western Manor tract in which applicant stated a six foot sideyard would be a hardship on the client whose plans and specifications have already been made.

Western Gravel and the Campbell Lumber Company seek variances from R-1 to M-1 and M-2 on their properties east of where Camden avenue crosses the railroad.

Don Stone submitted application for change of zoning from R-1 to R-2 for Kuehnis Estataes lots facing Hamilton avenue and hearings were set for February 4 and 18.

A subdivision map proposed for lands of A. G. Warning, north of Campbell avenue and east of San Tomas Aquina Creek was approved by the commission subject to:

1. Recommendations prepared in writing by the city engineer being complied with.
2. All lots in the subdivision being a minimum of 60 feet in width.
3. That a drainage easement be granted to the city on lots adjacent to San Tomas Creek and that a fence be set up on each of these lots for safety purposes.
4. That fifteen feet be dedicated to the city along Campbell avenue from the east side of the Junior Warning property to the west side of Senior Warning property and that it be paved in accordance with zoning ordinance specifications.

Members of the commission besides Chargin and Priestly include Homer Hyde, secretary and Hollis M. Logue, Guy E. Farley, James Tomlinson and Ted A. Solari, commissioners.

Fire Department To Conduct Drill

Campbell Fire Department and the majority of the volunteer force will participate in a fire drill, using heavy equipment, at the Campbell Union High School Sunday, Fire Chief Jack B. Scott said yesterday.

Last Sunday a drill of a survey of the potential fire hazards of the lumber yards of Campbell Lumber Company and possible ways to get water into the area from existing hydrants, as well as an appraisal of the emergency equipment of the lumber company occupied the attention of the local fire fighting force.

CLASSES TO VISIT SUPERIOR COURT

Campbell High School law classes of instructor C. P. Klassen will visit the Superior Court in San Jose Friday morning to enable students to more clearly visualize classroom theory.

Clases are scheduled to leave the school at 9:30 a. m. and return at noon.

As a follow up to the field trip, the classes in Business Law will conduct student trials to demonstrate court procedure.

CITY IS SET TO BUY NEW FIRE TRUCK

Campbell will have a new fire truck in the near future, if plans and specifications being prepared by City Attorney Joseph A. Bonacina and Fire Chief Jack B. Scott meet official approval at the next council meeting. Bonacina said at the meeting Monday that lease-purchase agreements he had studied were in order and that the cost of a new fire truck could be spread over a period of four years, if desired.

Jesse Black, assistant district engineer for the State division of highways indicated yesterday that the state would be adamant toward setting up a left turn ramp toward the Kuehnis properties from the new freeway indicating that about fifteen acres of new property would be used and about $500,000 needed for the job. But he indicated that the four lane ramp is altogether possible. The State research indicates easterly traffic might find another outlet after reaching Hamilton avenue. Attending the conference yesterday were Mayor Richard Morton, Planning Consultant Nestor Barrett and City Engineer Mark Thomas.
The meeting of the Central Fire district yesterday in San Jose with Chief Lingua resulted in the matter of the Campbell district claim being referred to the county counsel.

Scott said the city needs at least a pumper of from 750 to 1,000 gallon capacity to comply with State Board of Fire Underwriters equipment requirements for a reduction in fire insurance rates within the city.

At the present time, Scott said, the city owns a 500 gallon pumper and one of 200-gallon capacity. The 200-gallon truck is not recognized as a suitable piece of equipment for a city the size of Campbell, and receives no credit for reduction of fire rates, he said. City ownership of a fire vehicle of a greater pumper capacity would be a step toward acquiring a lower fire insurance rate, Scott said.

Poles have been set up in Hamilton Square subdivision for street signs, which according to City Engineer Mark Thomas, will conform with signs existing elsewhere in the city. A. J. DeSmet, subdivider of Hamilton Square unit No. 1 paid $585 for fire hydrant rental from a refund to which he was entitled from the bond and trust fund.

The council voted $750 from the general fund and $250 from the fines and forfeitures fund to supplement the budget of the city enginer for services not anticipated at the time the budget was set up..

A request from County Sanitation District No. 4 for permission to store base rock and plant mix on a bank of Los Gatos Creek near Gilman avenue, was referred to City Attorney Joseph A. Bonacina.

The property, which is within the city limits, is owned by the county.

Charles Borello of 469 East Hamilton was granted permission by the council to remove three walnut trees on the right of way adjacent to his property in order that some small houses may be moved to the rear of his ranch now in unincorporated area. Buildings, being moved from Stevens Creek Road, would have to pass over Campbell streets, so council indicated permision would be granted only in accordance with the zoning ordinance and under the direction and inspection of Leroy Black, public works superintendent.

J. B. Scott, fire chief, reported favorable inspection of improvements made at the Star Nursing Home but council deferred its re-

OLD SETTLERS' DAY COMMITTEEMEN TO REPORT ACTIVITIES TONIGHT

Second meeting of Old Settlers' Day committeemen will be held tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the office of Laurance J. Hill, general chairman for the event, at which time committee heads will report on their activities to date, Hill said.

Publicity chairman Norm Corvello said that Hill was arranging for hand printed neckties to be worn by Campbellites and OSO committeemen on the 62nd annual celebration in Campbell and the second oldest event in the State.

Corvello said he had copies of posters, window streamers and windshield stickers with Old Setlers' Day advertising to present to the group for approval. He said sound trucks from the High School had been lined up, and will be readied for the parade.

Dean Chamberlin is expected to report further on the progress of the Footlighter play, "Under the Gaslights". The play is planned to be presented on Saturday February 20. William C. Henley and Wayne Fontes are co-chairmen of a committee in charge of selecting a grammar and high school king and queen during a contest to promote sales of tickets to the Footlighter play.

Ira H. Grim, Campbell postmaster, in charge of the parade to be held on the morning of February 22, said he had mailed entry blanks to interested participants and had received his first entry Tuesday of this week from a county fur breeders agency who said they would prepare a motorized float as their entry.

Grim said he had received telephone calls from interested participants. He reported that county horsemen associations are calling meetings this week to sound membership on this year's participation in the Campbell Old Settlers' Day parade.

Grim said he would mention at the meeting tonight that he would caution all parade entrants to carry an identifying banner or emblem so they would be immediately recognized in the parade.

Grim said he had also planned to arrange all juvenile groups, grammar school age and under to precede the regular parade, in order not to keep them waiting and to keep the parade more organized and interesting from a spectator point of view.

Reports of other activities of the Old Settlers' Day are expected to be presented by Joseph V. Gomes, afternoon program, Herb Shadle and Mark Purmort, registration of Old Settlers, Ethan Lanphear, food sales; Budd Levenberg, evening program, and Henry Jewell and Milt Nelson, central committee.

Hunt Foods Cannery to Be Warehouse Here

The cannery in Campbell operated by Hunt Foods Inc. is to be converted to a warehouse in line with a modernization program announced this week by Irving Goldfeder, vice-president and executive committee chairman. The announcement was made before production executives attending Hunt's annual operating conference at Fullerton.

The plant, which was founded by J. C. Ainsley in 1886 has been in seasonal operation each year since its founding.

Since it is Hunt's intention to operate Campbell as a major warehouse, several of the relatively few employees involved will continue on in the warehouse operations, Goldfeder said. He also explained that other Campbell employees will be offered opportunities in Hunt plants in other communities.

The change was made, Goldfeder said, due to integration of the can producing lines of the United Can and Glass company with its own canning lines, at Hayward and Fullerton. In addition, he said, Hunts have installed and perfected a new cook room process employing patented, time-saving machinery. Goldfeder predicted increase in both production efficiency and capacity at the Hayward and Fullerton plants to make up for the Campbell volume.

"Thus more than $60,000 was for the costs of polio right here in Sana Clara County," Hathaway said. "No one can predict the costs for 1954, no one will ever be able to predict the costs until a vaccine has been found, and the very cause of polio itself determined.

INDUSTRY IN CAMPBELL

Just what effect the loss of the Hunt cannery will have on the economical life in Campbell is hard to determine at this time. It has been a substantial and seasonal operation here so has brought in some itinerant labor. General feeling is that other industry may replace it on a year-round basis and, indeed that is something which might be highly desired.

A cannery has operated in Campbell for many years, but when orchard after orchard is displaced with new subdivision homes, something usually happens. It may be a back log of orders, it may be the advent of frozen food from market to the home or it may be the centralization of plant industry. Whatever prompted the action, the operators must be doing what they deem most practical. We will have to be on the alert for new industry and bigger payrolls.

CAMPBELL HIGH LEADS THE WAY

The March of Dimes campaign in Campbell is being conducted by students of the High School with Joan Doeser as student chairman. So far as is known, this is the only High School in the United States directing any such campaign. The goal is for $2500 and likely as not it will be raised.

There will be speeches made in behalf of the drive, there will be letters typed, posters placed around and deposit containers distributed.

Those working on the project are to be commended for their sincerity. They deserve your contribution. Let's show the nation that one of its high schools has tackled a campaign to prevent as well as control polio, and has made an outstanding success of the campaign.

GET YOUR AUTO LICENSE

Like all taxpayers, we are prone to think how nice it would be if by some great magic all taxes were abolished. We are especially prone to think about it at tax time — which this is.

But not having found the necessary magic we do the next best thing — try to find the necessary dollars. And that leads us to remind you that among the taxes currently due is your auto license tax. If you've sold your car, or never had one, or plan to let what you have sit in the garage for the next year you have nothing to worry about. But the rest of us have.

To get your 1954 license tabs, take your potential registration slip which you have received through the mail to the nearest office of the California Motor Vehicles Department or to some other designated place. You pay the amount shown on the slip. Payment is to be made in cash or bank money order which you can buy at any branch bank. Personal checks are not acceptable. If you haven't received your new white slip, take your old one with you.

Remember, the deadline is February 4. It will cost you more if you miss it.

THRIFT WEEK

Ben Franklin's birthday — January 17 — is remembered by quite a few people. Printers remember him because of his fame in that field and his contributions to the printing industry. National patriotic organizations also note his birthday because he was one of our greatest Americans and, since Ben was among other things an author, inventor and philosopher there are still more groups to remember him. Franklin's views on thrift have endured through the years and every year Thrift Week which coincides with his birthday is observed. "A penny saved is a penny earned" is just as good advice today as it was two centuries ago, even though the 1954 value of the penny hardly stands comparison with that of 1754. Lots of ways have been devised for saving money since Franklin's day, but many more ways for spending money have also developed. So the need for thrift is just as essential to our modern economy as it was in the 18th century. There is still no substitute for "money in the bank" as a protection against economic hazards and we doubt if even a fellow as versatile as Ben could, or would want to, find a substitute for it.

THE SIZZLE SELLS THE STEAK

If you would like to get yourself a job, a sweetheart or a sales order; if you want more happiness, more social success, and greater business gains, remember this first—don't sell the steak, sell the sizzle. That is what a rancher in Texas has been doing for quite a while, and he advises others to do the same. He says it is the sizzle that sells the steak, not the cow. Says the sizzle is the tang in the cheese, the crunch in the cracker, the whiff in the coffee, the accuracy in the wrist watch, bubbles in the champagne, the punch in the newspaper ad.

GIVE BLOOD FOR AN EMERGENCY

What would happen if a bomb were to be dropped on Campbell? For those who might sustain injuries, we would need sixty thousand pints of blood. It could happen. There might be an earthquake or some other major tragedy, and we would need blood for the injured. Today the bloodmobile will be here for your share while you are well enough to give it. It is the voluntary donors of today who provide the 60,000 pints needed for tomorrow's emergency.

GIVE TO THE MARCH OF DIMES

The Campbell Gambol

FATHERS AND SONS have a good time on the baseball field at the Quito school choosing sides on bright Sunday afternoons while Mom and sis are on the side lines doing the rooting . . . some put in time with model plane flying and some do a bit of roller skating, but one thing for sure, they enjoy the fun . . . Quito school is in the Campbell Union Grammar school district and is not to be confused with El Quito Park school which is in the Moreland School district, all of which are in the Campbell Union High School district . . . at El Quito Park there are six new classrooms and an administration building ready for use next Monday, having just been completed by Sam Barth at a cost of $126,000 . . . so now Moreland District school has two classes each of first to sixth grade students, one set for each school . . . the Quito Pharmacy has been the classroom for 31 third graders and their instructor Mrs. Helen Taggart ever since September so that double sessions could be avoided.

PLANNERS ARE BUSY with semi-monthly meetings and on February 4 will hold hearings on six different matters all related to the new zoning ordinance . . . . some concern the size of side yards, some with property use changes, and some call for annexation, all requiring time and study . . . . then the county planning commission has hearings set for zone changes on properties fringing the Campbell city limits along the Los Gatos-San Jose road . . . . Campbell is passing through a very important stage of its development today and city officials are deciding matters which are bound to reflect on the economies of tomorrow.

CHANGING the cannery to a warehouse is not something peculiar to Campbell, as this has been going on in other fruit centers for the last several years since frozen foods began to be stocked in the markets . . . there may be other contributing factors, but the loss of the seasonal payroll is a vital consideration here . . . some of the optimists on the street however say an industry operating the year around even with a lesser number of employees is possible here and very likely will be interested within the next year or so . . . the big industries at the lower point of the bay are bound to need auxiliary units and we in Campbell already have the shipping facilities set up for them . . . we're in a creeping industrial region and can if we will, get industry which is neither seasonal or dependent on an emergency to bring about community prosperity.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Opinions expressed in letters to this department do not necessarily reflect the editorial policy of this paper.

Ed. note: The following letter was received from Hanau, Germany, from Ike Stephens, 1952 CUHS graduate, son of Mrs. Hester Stephens, San Tomas postmistress. In his letter, Ike tells of meeting other Campbell High graduates, and of his early impressions of Germany as a member of the U. S. occupation forces there. Ike graduated from CUHS in 1952, worked for the Palo Alto Times for one year before being called into service. He expects to be discharged in 1955.

"Editor, The Campbell Press,

"Our troop ship left New York November 28 and landed in Germany 3600 miles and 10 days later. On board we had movies, bingo, church etc., but you can imagine the line we had to stand in with 2600 aboard.

"Dick Bradford, CUHS graduate, 1953, was on the same boat and is stationed at either Munich or Frankfurt, I think. Before I left Fort Ord I ran into Nich Tersigni, and Frank Mantia, 1951 graduates of Campbell High School.

"I haven't been here long enough to form lasting opinions, but I like the friendliness of the people, scenery,, the accommodations the army offers, and the overseas duty.

"The people over here seem friendly, but it is not the great nation it once was. The people have to work hard for very little money. Over here, the KP is done by the German people. Most of the companies have the men chip in two or three dollars a day for them. Out of the money, the German people do the following: free tailoring and pressing of our clothes, free haircuts, free floor wax once a week, windows cleaned, halls swept, and they do all our KP for us.

"Anyone in the service who is of Sergeaant rank or higher is allowed to bring his dependents over at government expense, but due to red tape it takes eight, nine or even close to ten months to do this. This also includes your automobile.

"Our quarters are built like hospitals, four or five stories high, with rooms on both sides of the long halls inside.

"My job, clerk typist, consists of making requisitions for spare parts in an Engineer's division, so all those hours in Mr. Klassen's typing class weren't in vain after all.

"For recreation we have a theater, service club with a library, snack bar, music room, game room, lounge and craft shop. We also have a gym identical to Campbell High's where regular league games are held. Our baseball field is quite large, the center field fence being 427 feet from home plate.

"Our water over here is not drinkable, so we have to put halazone tablets in it to purify.

"If there is anything any of your readers want to know just drop me a line and I'll gladly answer all letters. My address it Pvt. Ike Stephens, US 56219347; ESCO Det. APO 165, c/o P. M. New York, N. Y."

Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Sutter, Head Old Settler List

Among Campbell residents who came to the Santa Clara County more than 50 years ago, according to the registration book signed by the early setllers, themselves at the 1953 Old Settlers' Day ceremonies, Mrs. Jessie Campbell, descendant of Benjamin Campbell, the first settler, heads the list. She has been a resident for 92 years. Mrs. Charlotte Sutter, daughter of Larry Willet, who settled in Campbell in 1861 and purchased 200 acres of land adjoining Campbell on the east, has been in this locality for the past 90 years.

Among other Campbell oldtimers who list early residence in the Santa Clara Valley are Jeanette Peterson, 1863, and Ruby Fore, 1863, giving them 91 years each of life in the "Valley of the Heart's Delight".

Others with over four score years local residence include: Flora B. Tupper, who has been here for 85 years; C. H. Davidson, 81 years; A. N. Lantz, 87 years; Harriet C. Hummel, 87 years.

Residents with seventy years or more include: Warren McKenzie, who arrived in 1884 and Ethel D. Parkwurst, a valley resident for 72 years.

Those with over 50 years residence in the valley include: H. S. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berry, Mrs. Bess Gates Cutting, C. B. Cutting, Orro Griswold Pratt, Flora Raab, Etta M. Eddlemon, Mrs. Bernice Tupper Clark, C. E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collins, Angeline Weaver Snow, and Willie Finnemore.

New Company To Open Here Soon

Campbell seems to attract pioneering families. William L. Chalmers, his wife, Betty and their two-year old baby daughter, Marylin, are recent newcomers to this growing community who are starting life anew after a disastrous fire which destroyed the home he had just built as well as furniture, clothing and other family valuables.

Chalmers, a former White River Junction, Vermont, resident, former Restaurant chain employee, and former manager of a 40-cow dairy farm, has been in Campbell about a month and is entering a new business. He is starting the "Utility Excavation Company", and with special equipment, will specialize in pipeline, septic tank, gasoline tanks foundataion, excavations and back filling of all kinds.

At the present time he is operating from his home on McGlincey Lane but expects to open an office in the Campbell area in the near future.

OILS BY CUTTING SHOWN AT LOCAL CAMPBELL SHOP

Paintings by Frank H. Cutting, of Harrison avenue are being shown on the Los Gatos Art Association sponsored wall at Ribble's Campbell Stationery Store.

This show replaces the work of Miss Oma Perry, Los Gatos artist, recently associated with the Campbell Press, as campaign manager for a circulation contest.

Cutting's show includes some of the most recent work in oil of the popular Campbell artist. A large seascape of Point Lobos; a couple of sand dunes, and a desert scene; Portola Park; Guadalupe Bridge; Big Spruce, and one water color of gnarled cypress are included in the showing.

To commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the Cuttings, the Santa Cruz Art League sponsored a one-man show through December.

The Los Gatos Artists will have a show by all members at Hotel Lyndon at the end of the month to raise money for the March of Dimes, an association spokesman said.

Police Checking On Missing Teen-Agers

Campbell Police Department is checking on a report from the mother of one of three missing teen agers, that her 16-year old son has been absent from his Dillon avenue home since 9 a. m. Tuesday morning, presumably in the company of a 14-year old girl, and another 16-year old youth.

Parents of the missing juveniles said they thought one of the boys plans to marry the girl, but as far as the parents know, they had no money, they have no employment, and the automobile in which they are assumed to be traveling, does not belong to them.

The parents said they were aware that the boy and girl had been seeing each other quite often recently. They could not explain the assumed presence of the second boy in the group.

WINNER... . . . of the commercial float division of Old Settler's Day parade lase year was the "Purple Harvest" theme of Campbell Co-op dryer and Sunsweet Grading Plant. The colorful float featured a large Sunsweet sunburst emblem in shiny gold paper. The rest of the well-planned float was bedecked with thousands of yellow and purple crepe flowers. The theme was illustrated by a large, tilted container pouring out prunes. Myrrl Block of the local office staff was chairman of this activity.

CO-OP DRYER AND SUNSWEET PLANT HAVE BEEN CONSISTENT WINNERS IN OLD SETTLERS' DAY PARADES HERE

Always a colorful entry in the annual Old Settlers' Day parade, and usually the winner of the commercial prize if not the grand sweepstakes award, are floats designed and built by employees of plant No. 1, of Campbell Co-Operative Dryer and Sunsweet grading plant.

Mrs. Myrrl Block, who, for the past five years has chairmanned the float preparation committees has been ill recently and a committee for preparation of this year's entry has not yet been chosen.

The showcase at the plant office on Central avenue is filled with trophies awarded at Campbell Old Settlers' Day parades since 1949, since which time the industry has earned a total of five prizes in the commercial division.

In its first entry, in 1949, a clever display of animated giant-sized cartons of sunsweet prunes—the nation's largest dryer was awarded a red ribbon.

Each year thereafted, their floats have become more intricate, and, according to the judges who awarded the trophies, more spectacular.

In 1950, thousands of spectators who lined both sides of Campbell's main street to view the one and one-half hour long parade, agreed with the judges who awarded the Sunsweet entry the grand sweepstakes prizes, for the best entry in the entire parade.

Sunsweet that year entered an acacia decked float, with cleverly costumed attendants. The winning float was designed by Dorothy Hoenig and Irma Reese. Decorations featured a brown and gold color scheme with large Sunsweet prune cartons and yellow acacia blossoms. Bertha Hohman, the plant's oldest employee, with 20-years service to her credit rode the float as queen with Lily Wilkinson, Myrrl Block, Andrea Melendrez, Dorothy Hoenig, Esperanza Melendrez, Caroline Gomes and Irma Reese as attendants.

A first place awaard in the industrial division rewarded the Sunsweet plant again in 1951, for its long preparation of a large, colorful replica of the "Sunny Sweet" music box surrounded by costumed marchers modeled after the cartoon music box figures. Myrrl Block provided the emphasis in organizing the costume designers and marchers.

A second sweepstakes prize in 1952 added another trophy to the plant's laurels. The float, sponsored jointly by the Campbell Cooperative Dryer, and the Campbell Local of the California Prune and Apricot Growers Association, featured approximately 18,000 handmade paper roses in a yellow Sunswete sunburst and lettering against a red background.

A committee of plant employees with Myrrl Block again acting as chairman met twice weekly at her home to make the roses.

Again last year, the CP&A received top recognition for its decorated float entry in the 61st annual Old Settler's Day Parade.

The colorful float featured a large Sunsweet sunburst emblem in shiny gold paper. The rest of the well-planned float was bedecked with thousands of yellow and purple crepe flowers. "The Purple Harvest" motif was illustrated by a large, tilted container pouring out prunes.

Myrrl Block of the plant office was chairman of this activity. Employees handling the decoration job included Irma Reese, Dorothy Hoenig, Caroline Gomes, Bessie Merrill, Angie Arosio, Leona Fernandez, Mary Rose De Palma, Rosalie De Palma, Josephine Magnasco, Edith Murphy, Laura Vierra, Edith McQuin, Vickie Pau, Frances Dutra, Elsie Terewin, Lisle Williams, and Lily Wilkinson.

Robert Sholz, Campbell Co-Op Dryer, president, provided the trailer an float frame work. General construction was done by Superintenden Hermann Gerdts, Foreman Ray Evora, Fieldman Elmer Anderson, and Dehydrator Adviser G. K. Schrader.

LAW IN ACTION

THE STATE BAR OF CALIFORNIA JULY 29, 1927

HOW OUR LAW GROWS

You want the law to grow to meet new challenges, but you do not want it to change completely. The law is like a boy; it must grow up to meet the changing world, but you do not want it to change overnight.

When you buy or sell a house, you want the law to stand firm. You do not want your deed upset by some new law overnight. When you make a will you would like its terms carried out long after you are gone. In short you do not want your law to upset your plans. So you want a stable law.

Yet the law cannot foresee all the changes that are to come, and it must be able to grow and meet new circumstances. Our laws should not straight jacket us. Sometimes old rules, in terms of modern life, are too harsh and should be changed. It is a good thing that our laws can change—by court decision, legislation, or by constitutional amendment.

Take an interesting case: Until recently a farmer believed he owned his property rights straight up as high as he wanted to claim them—to the sky even. But meantime, the airplane flew these skies. If your ownership went to the sky, you could stop anybody's flying over your property. Or, you could charge him a toll. But if land owners got a toll on airplane fare, travel would soon become too costly.

How do we change a system of laws to keep the esesntial use of our property and yet make people enjoy airplane trade, and travel?

You could not tell briefly how this was done. But within the past few years, we have carved out a whole new body of law by court decision and by law making. We have met the new problem without impairing unduly the older property rights of holders.

NOTE: The State Bar of California offers this column for your information so that you may know more about how to act under our laws.

Azaleas Beautify The Shade Garden

Exciting news! Beautiful azaleas can now be purchased as small liners from bedding plant containers at a fraction of the cost of large graded plants in pots. Small plants---small investment mean large variety collections for the azalea fancier.

Azaleas, one of the aristocrats of the shade garden, with their large showy blooms bring bright spots to the winter garden. There is almost a complete color range from pure white through pink, rose, red, lavender, purple and many variegated types. Being a shrub, azaleas are perennial in nature and yield their beautiful enchantment year after year.

Many varieties of azaleas are available, but the most popular by far is the Belgian Indica. This group is evergreen and has large double and semi-double blooms that are breathtakingly beautiful. Blooming period varies but they usually last from early fall until late the following spring.

Azaleas require good drainage and should be planted in a shade location for best results. As they are of the Heath family and possess small fibrous roots only, it is important that a loose soil medium be provided. Pure peat moss is satisfactory if the peat is kept moist, but generally it is better to make a mixture of half peat and half soil.. A special acid fertilizer is recommended and application should be made in the fall after the buds have set and are visible on the tips of the branches. In case of the foliage turning yellow, water the plants with one teaspoon of Epsom salts per quart of water at weekly intervals until the plant greens up.

Taming Lions is no trick,

compared to speeding when it's slick

We'll bet even a lion-tamer wouldn't consider speeding over slippery roads. Because if he did, his chances of living long enough to do any more lion-taming wouldn't be so good. Just like your chances of doing any more of whatever you like to do wouldn't be so good. It's a thought to consider, what with Winter all around us.

CAMPBELL HI-LITES

by Bob Olson

High School students
Are about what we make them
Their efforts match our aim.
So we've got to give them a scoreboard
So they'll play to win the game.
They'll abide by the rules
If they know what they are
Hit for the fences
Point toward a star
For all they need
Is someone to guide
To help steer the course
Of Life's wild ride
So give them a chance——
And they'll match all your dreams
For we all do about
As expected, it seems.

Though full of mixed metaphor, this verse expresses a truism, all right. We thought of it while sitting in Mr. Kemp's office the other night. He's adviser for all student activities (and a good man for the job since he knows the difference between advising and dictating!) and was sitting in on the March of Dimes meeting, CUHS being the only high school in the country conducting such a campaign this year. It was enlightening to us to hear student chairman Joan Oeser speak of this year's goal ("50% more in '54") as not only possible but probable.

In an age when some adults say that our young people are goal-less as well as hopeless, here these kids were eagerly planning a drive that would in on way help themselves but that would benefit the past, present, and future victims of polio, which is still our most frightening crippler. Of course, Alta-ki Triy-Y has an inspiration to head committee chairmanships in that one of its members, Dolores Gomes, is still in County Hospital, a polio victim. The group is enthusiastically making posters, speeches, and deliveries of collection containers to nearby stores and fraternal and service organizations. We drove a group of them about San Tomas and Quito Park the other night and marveled at their spirited unselfishness. This drive can't possibly fail with such a working crew!

And how else are our adolescents shooting for a goal offered them? Well, how about the "SAVE THE KOREAN CHILDREN" Clothing Drive? This project, under the chairmanship of that ball-of-fire Joan Arnaudo, has all the high school clubs filling bags of warm clothing for the unfortunate victims of the recent Pusan disaster. Here we have the Point Four Program working in our own community.

And what about the junior English classes corresponding with the boys in service? They're not composing interesting letters merely in the hope of striking up new friendships or gaining mail themselves, but are trying, in their own fashion, to make some lives brighter in gray uncertainty that is army life in this frightening cold-peace-time.

And you must have heard about the recent cheer-giving of our Future Homemakers at Christmas time. After hearing about a destitute family from the Welfare Office, they went right to work in rounding up a 22 lb. turkey and all the trimmings. As one of the girls put it, "This was the nicest Christmas ever; we never really understood the joy of giving before."

Many of our history students now have an opportunity to really do something for international understanding. For they came in contact the other day with the contagious enthusiasm of Mrs. Bertie Vekander, a Campbell High School teacher at our County Hospital Branch.

Mrs. Vekander was recently helping Kiyoshi Tokutomi with his citizenship and English lessons, when the two of them thought of a way to cement friendships with our Japanese friends in Saga City on Kyushu, the southernmost island of Japan (near Nagasaki, which is, of course, infamous as the home of the second atom bomb).

Buccaneer Cagers Outfight Fremont In Doubleheader

Buccaneer cagers, defending champions of the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League, defeated the Fremont Indian, 51-35 Friday in the Sunnyvale gym, for their first league win of the current season and their eighth victory out of nine starts.

The Buc lightweights made it a double header as they topped their opponent 46-44 with Richard Buck leading the Campbell scoring with 20 points.

After an evenly matched first quarter the Buc quintet slowly opened their lead to seven points at the half. It was Campbell's game from then on, with Ken Beth copping scoring honors with 10 points, closely followed by center Tom Hansen with nine.

High point man of the Indian squad was Pete Mathiesen, who netted nine points.

In the lightweight contest, Captain Shigeru Nizawa followed Buck in the scoring.

He netted four baskets and a free throw for a total of nine points.

Americans consumed approximately 455 pounds of dairy foods per person in 1952 according to the National Dairy Council.

Since there is, in Saga, a high school in many ways similar to our own, why not begin an exchange program? And so Mrs. Vekander began to exchange ideas, paintings, travel literature, colored slides, and tape recordings. Starting with one high school she now has a correspondence program with five—and what a correspondence!

Her new-found Japanese friends have sent much more than letters of the "We do this; what do you do?" variety. In fact, Mrs. Vekanader now has enough material for a wonderful hour's presentation. To our history classes she read excerpts of Japanese student themes:

"Unlike you, we have no cars so we go by bicycle, singing as we ride along, for, like the birds, we are glad to be alive. Our skylarks fly up in Spring and our hearts with them. Oh, the wonder of being healthy and young!"

In between the lines, we see how the Oriental feels about things, how he lives, what are his hopes, and in how many ways he is not different from us—but really like us. Their schools are more crowded and their student body more selective, but they too have gym classes, assembly programs, senior plays, field trips, and holiday pageants. For an hour we were carried into another world as we heard their choir sing their folk songs and their musicians play their flutes on tape recordings. We marveled at the technique of their oil paintings and the intricacies of their script writing, some of it having been passed down 4000 years. We laughed at their struggles with the English language ("There are no prepositions in Japanese") until we remembered how much trouble we have with a foreign language. And we were delighted with both their description and pictures of the famed camphor trees, rice fields, and picturesque shrines and moats.

In fact, Campbell Hight students are right now working on more material to be sent along with the next shipment to Saki. Ellen Nunamaker is putting into words what our home economics girls are trying to learn in cooking and why—and Ron Smith and Olon Forrest are explaining the technique of their sports, basketball and football, respectively. The Cartoon Club is sending along some of its most recent crafs material and the Campbell Choir is reciprocating with a record of our musical ability. One group is even attempting to catch the enthusiasm of one of our pep rallies on record. I wonder what they'll think of our "Let's Go, Campbell High, Let's Go!" cheer?

60,000 Pints Blood Needed If Bomb Is Dropped Here

About 60,000 pints of blood would be needed for a week's supply in the event an atom bomb was dropped in Campbell, San Jose or Los Gatos, according to Alistar A. Anderson, civilian defense coordinator who spoke Tuesday before the Campbell Kiwanis Club. He said further that in the event of a major disaster in San Francisco or other metropolitan area, the central part of Santa Clara County might be expected to take care of 100,000 refugees and give as many as 10,000 first aid treaatment.

William Henley was program chairman. Anderson, a member of the San Jose Club announced that the Campbell Club is to host the fellowship luncheon in the Empire room at the St. Claire hotel when the district convention is under way in San Jose next Saturday. The Campbell quartet is on the program.

From 900 to 1000 delegates are expected from California, Nevada and Hawaii.

Larry Willett purchased 200 acres of land adjoining the Benjamin Campbell ranch in 1861. Mrs. CharlotteSutter , Campbell's oldest living resident, had a deed executed by the Spaniard, J. Galindo, to J. Willett, for "163 acres, one rod and three perches" for $163.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor: The Campbell Press—

This year an all community carnival will be held as part of the Old Settler's Day Celebration. Traditionally on February 22 there is a parade, and so there will be again —featuring marching bands from the three branches of the armed forces. Following the parade, the carnival will be held on the Campbell Union High School campus.

You will want to join in the celebration by operating a booth at the carnival. The booths, built along the covered walkway of the school, will rent for $10 each. (Any surplus from the booth building fund will be refunded.) You will receive 90% of the net proceeds as the operator. Plan now to have a game of skill, or some other suitable fun-making activity, and make this one of our best community programs.

Publicity for this event will be handled by a competent committee and it is anticipated that we shall have large crowds. The demand for booths will be great, so you will want to reserve a booth now of the proper size for your acivity. The booths will be 8'x8' and 8'x16'. Make your check payable to the Old Settler's Day Committee and mail it with the application form to Mr. C. P. Klassen, Campbell Union High School, Campbell, California.

Christian Science Lesson-Sermon

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon read in Christian Science Society, Campbell Country Women's Club House, Campbell Ave., Sunday, January 17. Readings from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, make up the sermon. The Golden Text is from I John: "He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life" (5:12).

Romans 8: 3, 5: "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death. For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit."

Science and Health: "As a material, theoretical life-basis is found to be a misapprehension of existence, the spiritual and divine Principle of man dawns upon human thought, and leads it to 'where the young child was',—even to the birth of a new-old idea, to the spiritual sense of being and of what Life includes" (p 191).

Services Held For Mrs. Jones

Elizabeth M. Jones, 67, a resident of Campbell for the past three and one half years, passed away, Saturday in her home at 1030 White Oaks Road, after a long illness.
